

At a glance

The 162 Group is Irish group with interests in exploration and whiskey. It currently manages 4 listed AIM companies in diamond, zinc, oil and gas exploration and is developing a gold exploration company. The principals have established 15 listed resource companies. They control the second largest whiskey distillation complex.

Strategy - Exploration

We go where mineral resources can be found. This usually means balancing political uncertainty against geological opportunity. The strategy is to use our technical and financial resources to create new natural resource ventures.

Strategy - Distilling

To rebuild the Irish whiskey industry. GND supplies most of the new whiskey ventures.
